Westpay launches CARBON – First to market with a complete range of Android based payment terminals

Payments must work. Simple as that! With CARBON, Westpay brings a completely new payment experience to the market - a payment solution unlike any other. CARBON payment terminals are available for shipments from the beginning of 2019 on all European markets.

The power of Android

CARBON is the first complete product range of payment terminals built on Android, the world's most versatile and far-reaching operating system. Through Android, CARBON enables Cloud based payment solutions, tight integration to external point-of-sales applications and remote updating for flexible customization. Effortlessly!

A brilliant payment experience

CARBON is lightning fast when speed in payments matters. And it usually does! CARBON also has the power to run third party applications without compromising performance of the core payment functionality.

Big screens are not small matters. CARBON payment terminals have the largest screen to body ratio yet, whilst maintaining a small physical footprint. A premier design in a most robust package makes CARBON a grand experience for the user.

True Mobile

Mobility is top priority in a world that has become mobile. CARBON comes with the next generation mobility, with support for 4G and dual band WiFi with roaming capabilities. On top of that, CARBON has an ergonomic and lightweight design for the best portable experience.

Pure Trust

Security and stability in payments are second to none. CARBON complies with PCI 5.x, the latest and most strict security regulations. With full integration to Westpay's existing payment gateway solution, CARBON continue to rely on the performance stability available to customers on five continents.
